SP--581 Ignatian Spirituality (2 credits)

The spirituality of St. Ignatius of Loyola, the founder of the Jesuits, draws the believer into the freedom necessary for a deeper loving relationship with Jesus Christ and a greater commitment to serve others. After an introduction to this saint's personal journey of faith, this course will unpack the prayer methods, theological framework, and spiritual concepts contained in Ignatius' spiritual classic, the Spiritual Exercises. Particular focus will be given to Ignatius' use of active imagination when praying with Scripture and the daily Examen, the rules for discernment, the first principle and foundation, and the core meditations within the Exercises.

DT--581 Mariology: Doctrine and Theology (2 credits)

Through an examination of her portrayal in Scripture and the four Marian dogmas, this course will consider the Blessed Virgin Mary's spiritual maternity, singular prerogatives, and role in the economy of salvation. The theology of the Marian liturgical celebrations and devotions will also be discussed. Through this study, students be better capable of teaching or preaching effectively on the topic of Mary, as well as live a more Christ-centered life through her.

SS--593 Interpreting, Analyzing and Preaching the Gospel of Luke/Acts (2 credits)

This course will offer an in-depth analysis of major literary, theological, and socio-cultural themes in Luke's two biblical books, Luke and Acts. This will lay a foundation for students to critically articulate and theologically apply Lukan texts to our pastoral situations. Prerequisite: SS--510
